LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE STATE.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE CITY.

THE LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the Postoffice at the end of each week is published officially in THE DAILY NEWS every Friday morning.

LOCAL MATTERS.

SEE SECOND AND THIRD PAGES.

We are requested to announce that ARTHUR P. LUNGE, Esq., will deliver his introductory lecture on Commercial Law at the Waverly House, King-street, at the bend, at half-past 8 o'clock this evening.

Hon. W. D. SIMPSON.—From the Laurensville Herald of the 8th we learn that this gentleman, late a member of the Confederate Congress from the Northwestern District of the State, has been pardoned by the President.

"THE LADIES' HOME."—We have received the first number of a new weekly literary and family paper with the above name, published in Atlanta, Ga., THOMAS S. POWELL, Proprietor, and L. VIRGINIA FRENCH, Editress. The paper is as neatly gotten up as any in the United States, full of excellent reading matter, both original and selected.

ATLANTA seems to have recovered faster from the prostration, not to say annihilation, brought upon it by the war. In the second number of the Ladies' Home, published at that place, we see no less than thirty-one "professional cards" of physicians. No wonder the place is fast recovering.

NEW MUSIC.—We take pleasure in acknowledging two new pieces of music sent us by the publishers, Messrs. McCOMBELL & MEISINGER, No. 91 West Jefferson-street, Louisville, Ky. One of them is a song, "Stonewall Jackson's Last Words," dedicated to his widow, Mrs. MARY ANNA JACKSON. The other is "The Veto Gallop."

MILTON'S PARADISE LOST.—This interesting exhibition has attracted large audiences the past week, many being unable to gain admittance owing to the crowded state of the Hall. In accordance with a very general desire, the exhibition will remain three nights longer, the proprietor having kindly postponed his engagements at Wilmington and Richmond.

OUR METHODIST FRIENDS will be pleased to learn that there is a prospect of a speedy supply of books. The Nashville Advocate says: "Speaking of Church publications, the last number of the Nashville Christian Advocate says: Since our last issue, the members of the Book Committee, resident in Nashville, have held a meeting, at which arrangements were made for the speedy supply of books for our people. All over the Church the scarcity is great, and the demand must in consequence be heavy. Our business already begins to show evident marks of promise. Orders are coming in much more rapidly than we had hoped for, and every indication is that a busy season awaits us. We invoke the energy of all our friends."

CHARLESTON HOTEL.—Southerners are characteristically attached to old associations, and in no respect more particularly than in regard to their homes and those substitutes for homes—hotels. For many years the planters and country merchants of South Carolina and adjoining States have been in the habit of stopping at the Charleston Hotel, and one familiar with these classes can scarcely go there at any time without seeing many well known faces. No institution of our city has changed so little—the same magnificent piazza, the same comforts, the same well furnished table, and, often the same guests as ten years ago. The Charleston Hotel is in no respect second to any in the city, and under the management of its present polite and enterprising manager, Mr. WURTS, it is likely for a long time to sustain its ancient reputation.

PURSE FOUND.—Yesterday a colored woman named Julianne Robear saw a boy pick up a purse in West-north street, and run off with it. She gave chase, overtook the boy, and took it away from him. On examining it, it proved to be a very nice purse, containing an Etruscan brooch and a small amount of money. Instead of converting it to her own use, as she might very well have done, and as we are sorry to believe in our people would have done, she carried it to the Guard House, to be taken care of, and advertised, and delivered to the owner when called for. Julianne Robear was formerly a slave, and is still very much attached to her former owners. A virtue is seldom found alone, and here we have a display of honesty doing credit to a well-tried fidelity.

THROWING STONES.—The Charleston public are doubtless well aware that our rowdy youth of both colors have long indulged in the annoying and dangerous practice of throwing stones at each other in the streets, and especially on the Citadel Green, the Battery, and other open places. The fights on the Green have been stopped for some time, and practice generally is on the decrease, but it has not been totally abandoned, and yesterday a squad of city police made a sudden descent upon a parcel of these pugnacious and restless boys, and succeeded in capturing three and carrying them to the Guard House. The rest of the party escaped after a hard race and a great fight. It is to be hoped that our vigilant and active police will soon succeed in putting a final stop to a practice which is as innocuous as it is dangerous. Those caught should be severely dealt with as an example.

STARVING INCIDENT.—Yesterday morning Mrs. walked out into her flower garden to call a bouquet to wear to church. While plucking the flowers she noticed a haversack hanging upon the garden fence next the street. Tempted by the spirit of curiosity, which, in common with the rest of her sex, she inherited from Mother Eve, she took down the haversack and examined it. Imagine her consternation when she discovered within the haversack the dead body of a colored infant. The police were called in immediately, and the body being delivered into their charge, was carried to the Guard House, where an inquest was held. The jurors decided that the infant came to its death by means to them unknown. This is an unaccountable incident in an unknown chapter of crime in a volume of commentaries on the benefits of abolition to the colored people.

FREED PRESS SUPPRESSED.—A special dispatch to the New York Tribune dated Augusta, Ga., June 7, 1866, is as follows: "The military, by order of General Tillson, have taken possession of the office of the Loyal Georgian."

As we have never enjoyed the pleasure of seeing a single copy of the aforementioned literary production, we can, of course, not say what was the immediate cause that led to this catastrophe, but surmise it may have been the result of the meeting between the freedmen and General STEEDMAN and FULLERTON, on Sunday afternoon, the 3d instant.

RESIGNATION OF TREASURY OFFICIALS.—The following documents explain themselves:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, June 4th, 1866.
SIR:—On account of your inability to take the oath required by law, I am reluctantly compelled to suggest that I shall be under the necessity of requesting you to forward me your resignation to take effect as soon as a successor is appointed and qualified.
The Department will make a communication to Congress upon the subject of the compensation for services already rendered by officers who have been unable to take the oath, and I trust a suitable provision will be made in some way for such payment.
Very respectfully,
(Signed) H. MCULLOCH,
Secretary of the Treasury.
F. M. ROBERTSON, Esq.,
Examiner of Drugs, Charleston, S. C.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 8, 1866.
SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 4th inst., requesting me to forward you my resignation as Special Examiner of Drugs, &c., for the port of Charleston, S. C., in consequence of my inability to take the required oath.
As I am aware of the embarrassment which the appointment of persons to office, who could not consistently subscribe to the retrospective portion of the "test oath" has occasioned the Department, I cheerfully comply with your request, and hereby tender my resignation, to take effect as soon as a successor is appointed and qualified.
With my thanks for your expressions of sympathy and courtesy, I remain, very respectfully,
F. M. ROBERTSON, M. D.
Honorable H. MCULLOCH,
Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C.

PROVOST COURT, Saturday, June 9.—Dark cloud of prisoners and witnesses obscures the Court Room. Fortunate arrangement throws cloud to leeward of judges, clerks, lawyers and reporters, who are thus saved from overpowering incense. On looking over Friday's proceedings, we notice that the negro who was fined $20 for resisting the police, had appealed on the ground that the punishment was too severe. This surprised us much. A small sergeant attempts to arrest a disorderly negro. Negro resists; takes club away from sergeant and beats him with it, and has the impudence to appeal from a $20 fine as too severe a punishment. O tempora! O mores! The original sentence of sixty days' hard labor, from which the forgiving sergeant begged him off, was hardly enough for him.

The first case before the Court was that of the United States vs. Asa Gray, for stealing a gold watch. Asa was a tall, black, dirty negro, with a bran new cap, but nothing else new or clean. A gold watch would have been a most incongruous ornament. A perfect mania seems to have taken hold of the colored population to possess watches. They invest the first of their earnings in watches, and if they can't buy them they steal them. There was another case of watch stealing before the Court—but that was a silver watch, or, as one of the witnesses more particularly described it, a silver escape watch. The following case of dog stealing elicited more interest than any other before the Court:

United States vs. Minus Roper and Bristol Roper—Larceny of a Dog.—FREDERICK BROOKER, sworn, says that he saw defendant, Minus Roper, leading a dog tied by a string. Witness inquired politely of Mr. Minus Roper, colored individual, if the right of property in the said dog lay in him the said Mr. Minus Roper, colored individual; also, for what sum of money he would exchange the said canine quadruped, and also to what cognomen the said canine was trained to answer. The said Mr. Minus Roper, colored individual, replied categorically to him, FREDERICK BROOKER, German, that the canine was his, that he would take $10, and that the canine answered to the name of Brutus. Witness offered to purchase half cash, half at expiration of six weeks. Witness carried Mr. M. R., colored individual, home with him, and gave him six dollars. This morning, while witness was coming from market, dog left him and entered store of Messrs. HUGES & HASEL, well known vendors of India rubber belting, patent ventilators, &c., &c. Witness went into store after dog. Gentleman in store said dog belonged to British friend of his, H. P. WALKER, Consul. Witness then carried dog to Consul's residence. Dog therein seemed at home, and heeded the name of Jeff, whereby it appeared that he had been named in honor of the Confederate and not the Roman hero. Witness left dog with Consul's brother's son, who is present in Court to do his own swearing.

F. D. WALKER, Consul's brother's son, sworn: Says that he knows the canine now under discussion. Said canine is the property of H. P. WALKER, Esq., Her British Majesty's Consul in the Queen City. Canine, as was his custom, accompanied witness, some ten days in the past, to a diurnal haunt of witness known as the office. Canine entered, but departed quickly, and was no more seen until this morning, when he was brought to the residence of witness' father's brother, Her British Majesty's Consul, addressed, by Mr. FREDERICK BROOKER, the German gentleman who has just retired from the stand. No particle of doubt of the identity of canine disturbs the mind of witness.

Mr. Minus Roper, colored individual, was found guilty and sentenced to $10 fine or ten days' imprisonment. Mr. Bristol Roper was acquitted and discharged.

Mary Conding, colored female, for disorderly conduct in camp, was sentenced to twenty days' imprisonment, subject to order of Provost Marshal.

By order Brevet Col. H. B. OLNEY, U. S. A., J. H. McCLAIN has been appointed Associate Provost Judge.

MAYOR'S COURT, Saturday Morning, June 9.—The light of the familiar countenance of the Mayor was shed upon his satellites some minutes before nine o'clock. While waiting for that hour his Honor, relaxing from judicial dignity, narrates anecdote of surprised horse.

First Case.—A pet of LEVY. Flabby woman in a killing bonnet. Drunk. Blackguarding her husband loudly. Destroying at once conspicuous felicity and the public peace. "Turned over to a magistrate."

Second Case.—Prisoner sick. Doctor prescribed soup dinner, and milk and bread breakfast and supper. Artisan water and bread pills being the only diet afforded by the Guard House, prisoner was sent to jail that he might fare more sumptuously.

Third Case.—Elderly individual with gray hair and very little of it. Kidding on the pavement. Defended himself eloquently from prepared notes. Eloquence not convincing. Fined $5. Declined to pay. Wonder if it won't cost him $100!

CROPS ON PEE DEE.—A writer to the Marion Greenist thus speaks of crops in the northeastern part of the State. The letter is dated June 2: "Within two weeks I have seen nearly all the crops on the road from Gilchrist's Bridge to Britton's Ferry, and several miles below the ferry, and many crops not said road. From all that I have seen and heard in a scope of country, in Little Pee Dee, there are but two men who have planted an average crop of cotton in four hundred square miles—those two have planted more than an average crop—got a bad rise, and I saw since the 15th of May that a large part had been ploughed up, and heard that they were continuing to plough and plant. But few, if any others, have planted near an average crop of cotton or corn. The corn looks better than I expected to find it under the disadvantage of extreme wet and cold. The cotton generally looks badly, and not a very good stand. Therefore, I am of opinion that if the seasons are favorable the remainder of the year, and the crops well tended, that we shall not realize more than a two-thirds crop of corn and a half crop of cotton. The seasons may be adverse, and generally it is impossible to control free negroes to near the same extent as when slaves. From these circumstances, and others not mentioned, I have come to the conclusion that we shall not generally realize more than one-half of an average corn crop, and one-third of cotton crop."

GREAT SALE OF DRY GOODS.—The attention of our readers is particularly called to the advertisement of Mr. LOUIS COHEN, No. 248 King-street. Mr. COHEN is retiring his store in a new and handsome manner, and is obliged to sell his goods to make room. The public in general, and the ladies in particular, should avail themselves of this rare opportunity to obtain the best goods at the lowest prices. It will not last long, nor occur again soon.

THE MANSION HOUSE.—This well-known establishment is now opened on the European style by Madame RUTZ, than whom no one is more capable of conducting a house of that character. Her name is familiar to our citizens as the proprietor of an ice-cream saloon on King-street, before the war, and during the war as the amiable hostess of the Central House, Columbia. If experience is any guarantee of capability, the hotel and ice-cream saloon attached will both be superior in their way. Madame RUTZ was twice burnt out during the war, and our people should take pride in patronizing her.

HOMOEOPATHIC REMEDIES.—One of Dr. HUMPHREY'S cases of medicines, containing thirty-five vials, embraces remedies for every well known disease, and costs $10. A family provided with one of them will save during the year, ten times the amount of their cost, in obviating the necessity of medical attendance, besides securing its members from protracted and serious illness. The trifling outlay required should be a consideration with all who believe in the axiom, "that a stitch in time saves nine." Disease, to be overcome, must be promptly met, and Dr. HUMPHREY'S remedies are invaluable for such a purpose.—New York Courier.

CLOSING OUT SALE OF THE LONDON WATCH CO.

OWING TO THE FAILURE AND SUDDEN CLOSING OF THE works and business of the LONDON WATCH COMPANY,

A large number of fine WATCHES, manufactured especially for the United States, being heavy, first-class time-keepers, intended to stand hard usage and sudden changes of temperature, are left in our hands for immediate sale. As agents of the Company, we are obliged to dispose of them at the lowest possible price. We have, therefore, decided on the plan annexed as the one that will be productive of the desired result. This plan gives every one an opportunity of obtaining first-class time-keepers at a price that all can command. Remittances may be made at our risk in registered letters or by express, or postoffice orders, and drafts payable to our order, and we guarantee a safe return. This INSURES safe delivery and sure return for every person.
